Property Highlights

Introducing 134 Hampton Road in Rothesay, New Brunswick. This property consists of two lots, lot 1 is located on Hampton Road and is zoned residential, and lot 2 is located at the rear and is zoned as commercial. However, because of the increasing development in the area, the potential for a commercial project would take this property to the next level.

Currently there is an outdated 4-bedroom, 1-bathroom home, along with a 21 x 27 foot garage located on lot 1, both are in desperate need of renovation or can be demolished to use the lots for further development. This is one of the last commercial properties left to develop on this very busy main artery.
