Close to it all

Archetype is in the midst of a booming community of finance, government, health care, design and tech. As a mature, heritage community, False Creek Flats is continuing to expand and grow, providing industrial and commercial businesses with ample opportunity and vibrancy.

Innovation Plaza, which runs through Archetype's breezeway, is an important pedestrian link, connecting the Innovation Hub (to the north) and Emily Carr Campus (to the east).

Here you have access to the SkyTrain, and you're 2 minutes from the future Thornton Street/Great Northern Way Station. In addition to art galleries and a diverse array of businesses, the Flats will be home to the future St. Paul's Health campus, along with a growing tech community.

Convenience is in all directions. With an abundance of coffee shops and restaurants (and even more to come in this fast-changing neighbourhood), employers will have no problem attracting top talent.

Building Features Designed For Comfort and Efficiency

This dynamic mixed-used building is anchored on the east and west by two mid-rise towers bridged by an 8-storey residential building, and unified by creative industrial spaces that wrap around the entire development.

With a bold approach and unique identity, Archetype is bringing a new model to Vancouver. Meticulously designed by award-winning GBL Architects, Archetype's material palette is inspired by the evolving neighbourhood. It reflects three distinct uses by harmonizing robust industrial cladding with a softer residential treatment, and a contrasting transparent office tower facade. These striking elements are subtly unified through shared stepping heights and elegant vertical expressions.

Specs at a glance

- Unparalleled views of the North Shore mountains
- Expansive and best-in-class top floor patio and amenity space
- A community-oriented plaza and artwall to promote innovation and collaboration
- High performing end-of-trip facilities, showers, lockers, secure bike storage, and fully equipped bike workshop
- Implements Energy Step Code Level 3, which reduces building system noise, uses less energy, improves fresh air and better manages temperature swings
- EV charging stations
- Ample loading facilities
- 4-Pipe Fan Coil HVAC System is durable, energy efficient, and uses fewer heavy refrigerants than traditional HVAC systems
- Expansive energy efficient glazing promotes the use of natural light
- Connection to Vancouver's neighbourhood energy utility, reducing utilities costs and utilizing green energy sources
- Designed to a LEED® Gold Core and Shell specification

Setting a Precedent

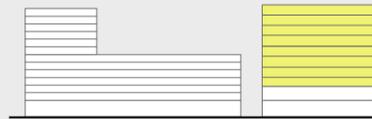

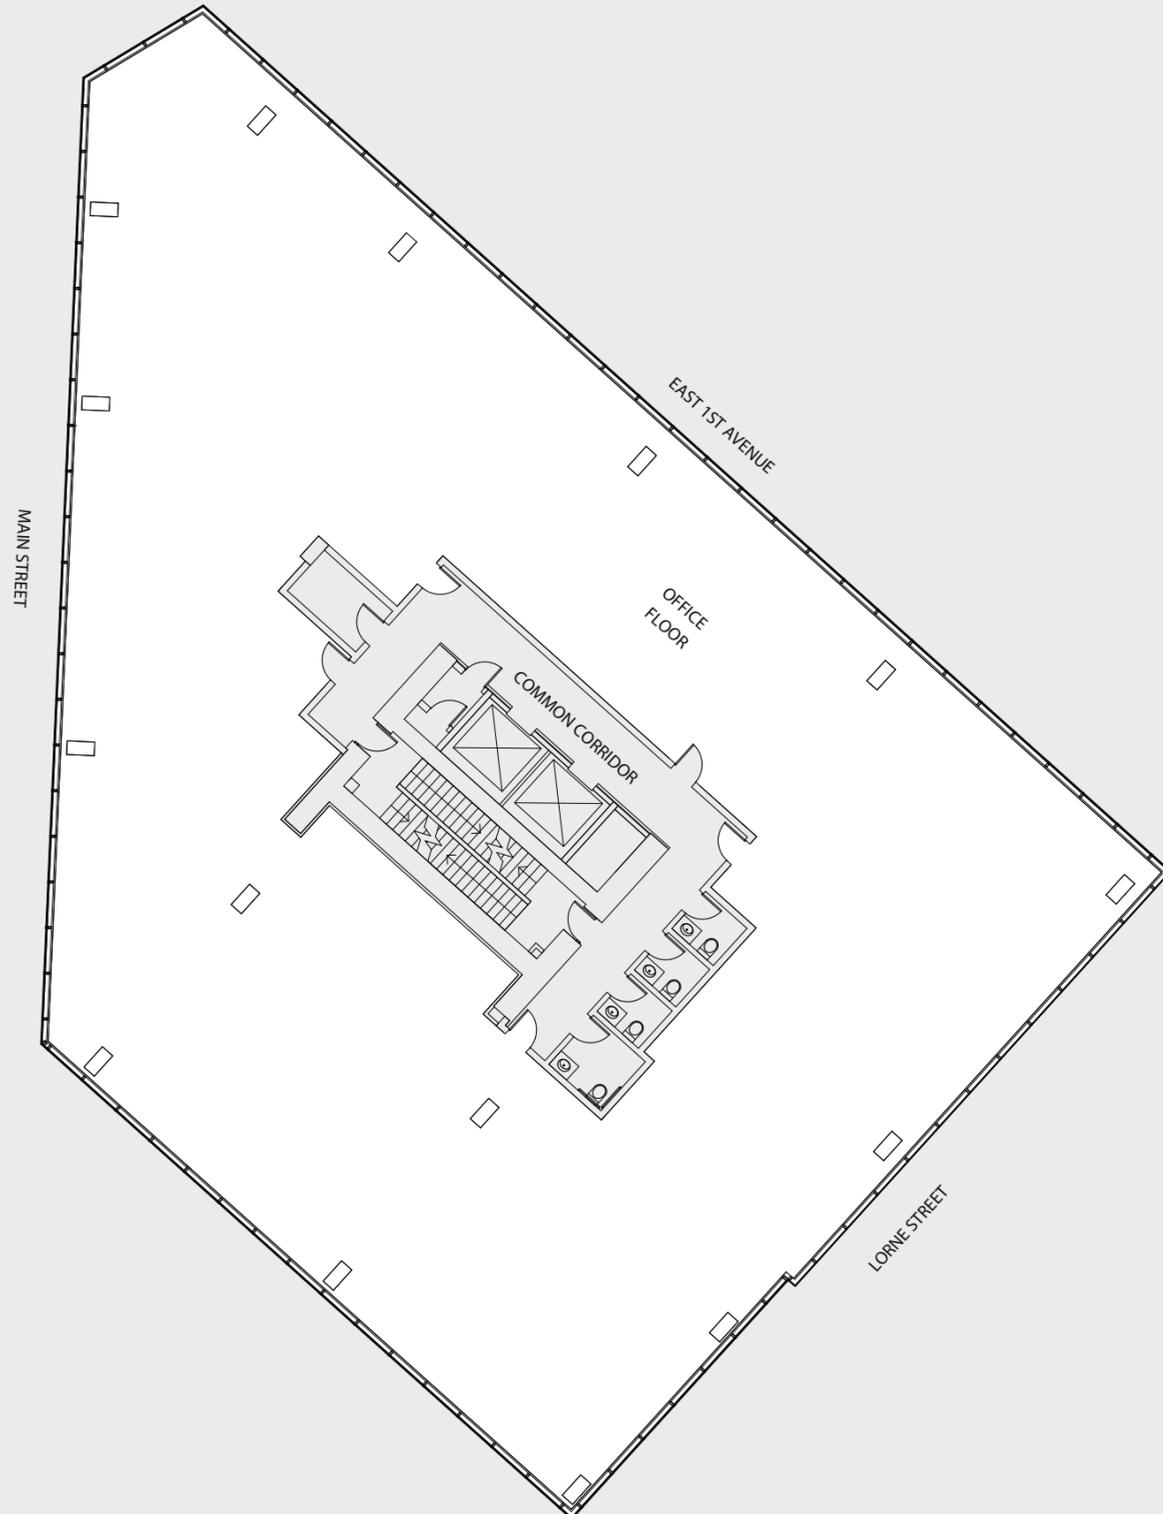

With a strikingly bold architectural design, the 69,000 SF office tower is clad in vertical metal louvers to create a sense of verticality and rhythm. The AAA office space has 11' high ceilings, and is designed to LEED® Gold Core and Shell specifications. Office spaces will be subdivided into smaller individual strata units to maximize long-term liquidity for owners, whose business needs change over time.

Common areas on each floor feature high-quality design elements, wood finishes and individual unisex washrooms. FC-2 zoning allows for general office uses.

Make an Entrance

Archetype's clean, elevated design ensures you make a bold entrance as you are transported through the metal-etched entry portal.

The lobby opens up into a spacious double-height realm, accentuated by a bespoke lighting creation that floats above, emulating the concept of prototype and creation.

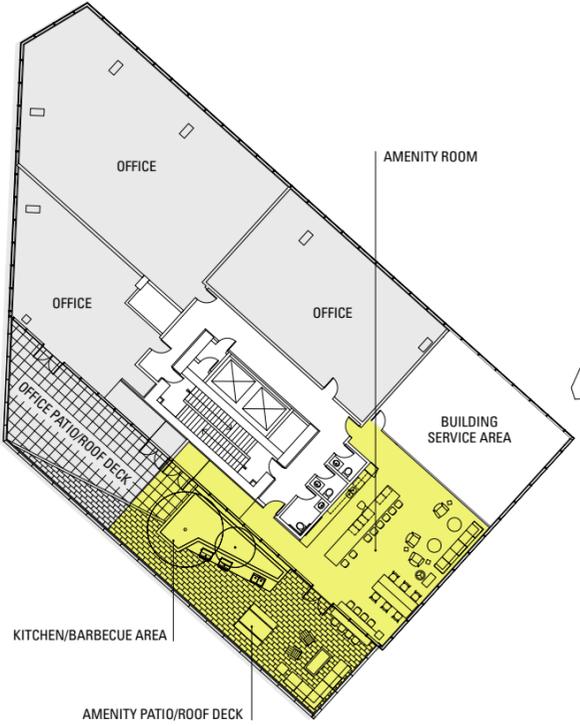

A Rooftop Patio with Lounge and Informal Workspaces

Archetype celebrates community and flexibility by providing over 2,400 SF of common rooftop amenity space. The indoor common area lounge features soft seating, perfect for impromptu meetings, brainstorming and informal workspaces for varying work styles, while enjoying the unparalleled mountain views as your backdrop.

The south-facing outdoor patio is the perfect spot to unwind and relax. Complete with flexible soft seating, harvest tables and a built-in barbecue, the patio will become your go-to space on warm summer afternoons.

At Archetype, every small detail has been designed with businesses in mind. With a fully stocked kitchen, keg tap, movable whiteboard, and indoor-outdoor bar seating with operable windows, this is an outstanding amenity for both creative industrial and office tenants.

Amenities Above and Beyond

We recognize that Vancouver is an outdoor mecca. Archetype is steps from the best bike network in the city, and features outstanding bike amenities.

Outdoor enthusiasts are greeted by a bright, bold end-of-trip facility that includes drying racks, secure bike storage lockers and common bike storage rooms.

After dropping off your gear in our secure, state-of-the-art facilities, kick-start your day at Archetype's modern and brightly designed private showers and change facilities. The make-up counters, hair drying stations and private lockers have been designed with brightly coloured terrazzo tile and yellow accents, to help motivate and inspire you for the day ahead.

Balancing Sustainability, Productivity & Livability in Urban Communities

A breezeway between buildings connects with a bike path and the surrounding neighbourhood, providing easy access to Main Street and Emily Carr University. The eastern-most wall is flanked with a heritage-inspired art installation, creating a focal point for the area.

As a connecting point for the community, the Arts & Innovation Plaza is a natural gathering spot for Vancouverites.

1 Art Wall

The east side of the office tower will feature a digital ceramic glass print that is 35 metres high and 17 metres wide. This design will feature a dot-matrix abstraction of False Creek Flats near the turn of the 20th century. With its pixelated effects, the design will retain the original sense of place, while speaking to the future progression of the area as a centre for tech. The design is deliberately placed towards the heart of the Flats, as a call to preserve the area's industrious nature.

2 Arts & Innovation Plaza

The plaza is designated to become an important pedestrian link that connects the creative activity of the Innovation Hub to the Emily Carr Campus.

3 Bike Workshop

A fully stocked HUB Cycling-approved bike workshop has your cycling commute covered. It's complete with repair stands and a full complement of tools, from hex wrenches to bottom bracket and locking tools.

4 Landscape Design

A manicured and meticulously planned landscape design by PWL Partnership will feature a cable trellis green wall with creeping vines, Japanese Katsura trees, maples, patio seating, and catenary lighting between buildings, making it ideal for both day and evening events and functions.

5 Residential and Industrial Lobby and Entrance

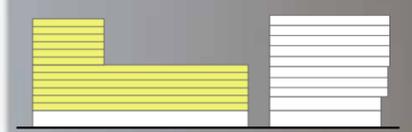

A secondary entrance and lobby off the Arts & Innovation Plaza will promote interaction between residential tenants and businesses.

Over 200 Rental Homes for Creative Living

Archetype offers spacious 1, 2 and 3-bedroom units that feature an unsurpassed amenity-rich experience with meticulous attention to detail. Features include balconies with metal cladding, a private rooftop garden and top-grade finishings.
