W COLORADO AVE

The Heart of Historic Old Colorado City

About The Property

Positioned just off Highway 24, the property benefits from exceptional visibility and access along one of the region's most heavily traveled corridors. Highway 24 is the primary route connecting Colorado Springs to the mountain communities to the west, including Woodland Park, Cripple Creek, and Eleven Mile Reservoir. In the warmer months, this corridor becomes a gateway for thousands of daily visitors heading into the Rockies for recreation, adventure, and scenic escapes—making Old Colorado City a natural and frequent stopping point.

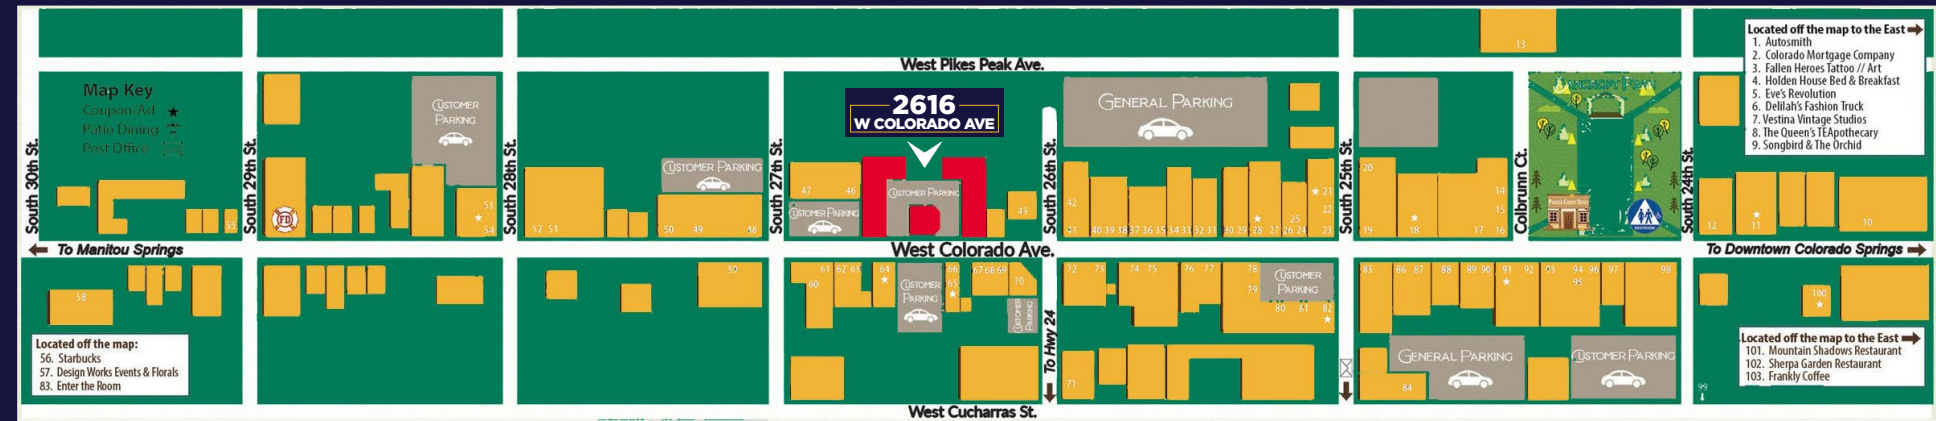

Old Colorado Square is located at the heart of this pedestrian-friendly environment, where heritage architecture and independent retailers come together to create an authentic shopping and dining experience unlike anywhere else in the region. From art galleries and antique shops to boutique studios and beloved eateries, OCC thrives as a destination that invites exploration and repeat visits.

About Old Colorado City

Founded in 1859 during the height of the Colorado Gold Rush, Old Colorado City was the first capital of the Colorado Territory and served as a key hub for early pioneers, miners, and traders moving west.

Its strategic location at the base of the Rocky Mountains made it an essential waypoint for those traveling between the mining camps and the burgeoning city of Denver. Over time, it developed into a bustling center of commerce with saloons, hotels, and shops lining its main street, many of which still stand today. Annexed by Colorado Springs in 1917, Old Colorado City has retained its independent spirit and historic charm. Today, it is recognized as a National Historic District, celebrated for its preserved 19th-century architecture, walkable streets, and vibrant community of locally owned businesses.

Its unique blend of heritage and vitality makes it one of the most distinctive and visited market areas in the region—ideally positioned between Downtown Colorado Springs and Manitou Springs.
