Tremont

Tremont is one of Cleveland’s oldest neighborhoods, and has been historically home to many different ethnic immigrant groups, including Germans, Greeks, and East Slavs.

It has numerous historic churches with architecture and artwork including St. Michael the Archangel (1892), Pilgrim Congregational UCC (founded in 1859), St. Augustine (1893), St. John Cantius (1898), and St. Theodosius Russian Orthodox Cathedral (1912).

The neighborhood has seen significant growth in recent decades and is today home to many restaurants and art galleries, and has emerged as a local cultural center, attracting technology companies with plans to further develop and preserve its historic landscape.

At A Glance

Atmosphere: A walkable “urban village” with a mix of historic charm and modern, high-value redevelopment.

Dining & Culture: Known for diverse restaurants, cafes, and a flourishing art scene, with Professor Street serving as a main hub.

History & Architecture: Features one of the largest concentrations of historic churches in the country (26 within one square mile).

Location: Situated south of Ohio City and downtown, providing easy access to the city center and the Towpath Trail.

Pop Culture: Home to the A Christmas Story House (filmed on W. 11th St.) and scenes from “The Deer Hunter” (filmed at Lemko Hall).

Community Space: Lincoln Park is the central green space, hosting numerous community events
