COMMUNITY PROFILE

Slave Lake is the commercial and service hub for north central Alberta, serving local residents, surrounding communities, Indigenous communities, and the region's resource industries. Located at the junction of Highways 2 and 88 on the shores of Lesser Slave Lake, the community draws shoppers and businesses from a trade area well beyond its municipal population. As the region's primary retail centre, Slave Lake offers a full range of shopping, healthcare, professional services, education, and government services.

The local economy is supported by forestry, oil and gas, agriculture, tourism, transportation, and public sector employment. Major forestry operations, continued development of the Clearwater oil play, Northern Lakes College, and regional healthcare services generate a strong daytime population and support a diverse mix of national retailers, restaurants, and service providers.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Slave Lake is also one of Alberta's premier recreation destinations. Situated on the shores of Alberta's largest lake accessible by road, the community attracts visitors year round for boating, fishing, camping, ATVing, snowmobiling, and beach recreation. Annual events such as Riverboat Daze and numerous fishing tournaments and community festivals further strengthen Slave Lake's role as both a tourism destination and a regional shopping centre
